Thingamajig

The secret life of objects

Thingamajig: The secret life of objects is an exhibition of material culture drawn from local, private and public collections. The artworks, objects and documentary items selected for display tell stories of local character and ingenuity, as well as revealing the broader social and political history of Cork.

EVENTS + EDUCATION

IN DETAIL

In Detail is a public conversation between a UCC academic and a Glucksman curator, focusing on a selected work in the exhibition. This free event takes place monthly throughout the exhibition run.

TANGENTS

Tangents is a panel discussion that invites academics, curators and writers to explore ideas related to the current exhibition from diverse backgrounds and viewpoints. The next Tangents discussion is on the theme of Disregarded Cultures and takes place on 11 February.

PERSPECTIVES

The Glucksman presents regular talks by artists and other cultural commentators to provide informed perspectives on current displays. A full programme of talks will be available online from early February.

CURATORIAL TOURS

Exhibition curators lead public tours of Thingamajig throughout the exhibition run.

WORKSHOPS + LECTURE COURSES

The Glucksman offers workshops for schools and community groups that introduce participants to different ways of making art. For information on available workshops, please contact the gallery. The lecture courses on offer in 2010 include Introduction to Modern Art, Introducing Artists' Film + Video, and Introduction to Contemporary Art.

GLUCKSMAN UNPLUGGED

Come and enjoy all kinds of music free of charge on the last Thursday of the month. From Congolese drumming to classical violins, Glucksman Unplugged is an opportunity to hear something unexpected in the visually stunning surrounds of the upper galleries.

Please consult www.glucksman.org or call +353 21 4901844 for detailed event information.
