The Glucksman UCC

An award-winning venue

“The building sits in a key position close to the entrance of University College Cork. On two sides it has a civic role in addressing the university and city beyond, on the other two a completely different, almost picturesque role, in settling into an important mature landscape.”

RIBA Judges statement

The GLUCKSMAN is situated in the picturesque lower grounds of University College Cork. The stunning contemporary architecture houses three floors of gallery spaces, a riverside restaurant, gift shop and a multi-functional education space.

Designed by RIBA Gold medal winners, O'Donnell + Tuomey, the architecture of the gallery has been awarded several prestigious prizes including a UK Civic Trust award, a RIBA award and UK Building Services award.

The GLUCKSMAN was opened to the public by the President of Ireland, Mary McAleese, on 14 October 2004. Named in honour of one of its founding donors, the American financier, Lewis Glucksman, the gallery was named Best Public Building in Ireland in June 2005.
